

This world is like, totally unfair! It's all because I don't look conventionally pretty.

But hey, I heard about this kickass cosmetic treatment that's been making waves, and I'm thinking of treating myself to it as a birthday gift this year!

You know that hospital, right? I heard there's this super talented doctor everyone's talking about.

I'm actually thinking about getting my jawline sculpted for my birthday this year because it makes my face look too big...

I've been so tired lately,
you know?

I'm thinking of getting a little cosmetic procedure done as a way to reward myself. ♡
